I am in daily touch with the requirements of the Assembly & the sentiments of the people & would earnestly request the Govt of India to continue the present system for some time longer I am myself for sale by auction but modified my opinion after the situation was explained to me by the officers in immediate charge I request early orders on the subject.

The Sale of these sites was ~~conducted~~ Conducted as per Offr Dewans order on proposal Serial No 4/c

It will be seen from the accompanying statements prepared in the Plague Commissioners Office that the sites in the Basavanagudi Extension fetched good prices while the prices realized in the Mullesvaram Extension are less than the amount due as per scale laid down in Govt P Do No Pg 667-71 dated 15th Dec/99 (Serial No 1).

The question for consideration is, whether the sites in the Extensions shewn hereafter be sold by public auction or whether they should be allotted to applicants on the terms prescribed in Govt Pro No Pg 1251-2 of 12th April 1900.

Government in their Pro. No.667-71 dated 15th December 1899 fixed prices for building sites in the Basavanagudi and Malleswaram Extentions with the restriction that the prices were subject to the ~~consideration~~ Condition that the houses were to be built or commenced before the 31st December 1899 and that, the case of persons who purchased sites before 31st December 1899, but commenced to build thereon subsequent to that date, 1½ times of the above rate would be recovered. But no order was passed as to future rate of prices in case of other persons.

Serial no 2.

2. In a subsequent Order No.1251-2 dated 12th April 1900, the limit of time as regards privileged rates above referred to, was extended upto 31st May 1900.

Serial no 3/a

3. Owing to the recrudescence of plague in the City people began to apply for house sites in the Extentions in a very large number in consequence of which the Deputy Commissioner Bangalore District requested the Plague Commissioner in his No. 695 dated 16th October 1900, to obtain the orders of Govt. to grant sites at the rates prescribed in Govt. Pro 667-71 dated 15th December 1899 as the prescribed period viz.,

viz.,31st May 1900 had expired and as he had no instructions how to act after the expiry of that period.

4. The Plague Comr. was not in favor of granting the Deputy Comr.'s request as sufficient time had already been allowed for such of the applicants as were actually in need of sites, but recommended to Govt. in No.1846 dated 30th October 1900 to authorise the Deputy Comr. to sell by public auction subject to the conditions laid down (except 6&7) in Govt. Pro. No.1251-2 dated 12th April 1900 fixing the upset prices at 1 Rupee for 100 square feet of Cottage, Villa and House sites and 1½ Re. for every 100 sq are feet of Bazaar site.

Serl no 2.

5. The Deputy Comr. submitted in his letter No.857 dated 15-11-1900 to the Plague Comr. that it was very doubtful whether the disposal of sites by public auction would fetch more money than their sale at fixed prices, for, though a few good well situated sites might fetch good prices the uneven rocky and ill situated sites would not command a good sale.

Serial no 4/6

6. For the reasons above mentioned the Plague Comr. requested the Govt. in his letter No.2157 dated 18th November 1900 (withdrawing his former letter recommending the sale of sites by public auction) to extend the limit of time as regards privileged rates prescribed in Govt. Pro. No.667-71 dated 15thDecember 1899 upto the end of December 1900.

Serial no 4.

Serial no 5.

7. Govt. in their Pro.No.755-8 dated 18th December 1900 considered it undesirable to extend the time any further as regards privileged rates on the ground that there was a large number of sites available in the two Extentions, and ordered the sale by public auction in the first instance of a few selected sites in the two Extentions and submission of a report shewing the result for orders of Govt.

8. The Deputy Comr. accordingly sold a few sites and reported the result to the Plague Comr. (in his No.1683 dated 26th February 1901) who forwarded the list to Govt. with his No 3840 dated 19th March 1901.

9. It will be seen from the statements received with the Plague Comr's No.3840 dated 19th March 1901 that the sites in the Basavanagudi Extention fetched good prices while the prices realised in the Malleswaram Extention are less than the amount due as per Govt. Pro.No.667-71 dated 15th December 1899.

decrease being 962-1-6.

/2. The Deputy Comr. requests in his
No.1653 dated 16thMay 1901 to be informed whether he should report to Govt. for confirmation of sale a few sites which he has recently sold.

It was the desire of Govt to sell a few selected sites, in the first instance by public auction to see whether by so doing they would fetch higher prices than those fixed by Govt. The result of such sale was very satisfactory as far as the Basavangudi Extension was Concerned

As there has been a recrudescence of Plague in the Bangalore city, and as a large no. of sites is still available in both the Extensions, it is desirable that the sale of sites by public auction should be stopped & the sites allotted on the terms laid down in

To The Secretary to the Govt of Mysore
General & Rev Departments

SIR,

In forwarding herewith copy of letter no 695 dated 16th October 1900 from the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District together with copy of its enclosure, I have the honor to state that in Govt. Progs no Pg. 667-71. dated 15th December 1899 prices were fixed for building sites in the Basavangudi and Malleswaram Extensions with the restriction that these prices were subject to the condition that the houses were to be built or commenced before the 31st December 1899

1899, that in the case of persons who purchased the sites before the 31st December 1899 but commenced to build thereon subsequent to that date 1½ times the above rate would be recovered and that the Govt. were not then prepared to prescribe the rates for sites taken up thereafter.

In Govt Prop. No 1251-2 dated 12th April 1900 the limit of the time as regards the privileged rates above referred to was extended upto 31st May 1900

The Deputy Commissioner now reports that owing to the recrudescence of plague in the City several applications are being received for sites in the said Extensions and that it would be a sort of encouragement if the rates sanctioned in Govt. Prop no 667-71 dated 15th December 1899 were allowed to continue.

I think the Deputy Commissioner's

Commissioner's recommendation cannot be sanctioned as sufficient time has already been allowed for such of the applicants as were actually in need of Sites and that in future the Deputy Commissioner may be authorised to Sell, by public Auction subject to the conditions laid down in Govt. Proc. No. 9/257-2 dated 12 April 1900 except conditions 6 & 7, all the building Sites fixing upset price as 1 Rupee for every 100 Square feet of cottage, Villa, and house Sites and 1½ Rupees for every 1000 Square feet of Bazaar Sites.

The provisions of the Land Revenue Code and the rules issued thereunder may apply to Sales of Sites in the said Extensions and to the recovery of Sale proceeds.

Subsequently in Government Proceedings No. Pg 1251-2, dated 12th April 1900 the limit of time as regards the privileged prescribed rates was extended up to the 31st May 1900. The latter date has long since expired but no orders have been received as yet about the value to be recovered on sites. Within the last few days since I assumed charge of the Extension Department I have received a number of applications for sites in the Bandau Sandakan Extension and in the absence of any instructions in modification of the rates sanctioned in the Government Proceedings above quoted

Sir,

I have the honor to invite your kind reference to my letter No 409 dated 10th November 1900, and beg to be favoured with early orders about the value of Sites in the Extensions. Owing to the increase of plague in the City many people are eager to build houses in the Extensions and wish to commence work at once and most of them are prepared to pay at once the values of the Sites. As it is highly desirable that this favorable opportunity should be taken to people the Extensions I shall until otherwise ordered, continue as hitherto to grant available sites to applicants at the favorable rates sales of prices fixed by Government.

2. I beg that my suggestions for the continuance of the prescribed rates till the end of December next may be favorably considered. It is very doubtful whether the disposal of the sites by public auction will prove more advantageous to Government than their sale at fixed prices: for though a few good well-situated sites may fetch good prices, the uneven, rocky and ill-situated sites of which there are many will not command a good sale. The system of selling sites by public auction will not attract people so much as the present system of sales by which applicants have only to go and ask for the sites to be given them. It is doubtful if the sites will be well attended by the poorer officials. These men, many of whom have now owing to the increase of plague, realized the necessity of removing to healthy quarters, will have no chance in a public auction against rich and well-to-do merchants and others who may bid for the sites in public auction with speculative purposes. Lastly the public sale of the sites will disturb the present allotment of special localities for special classes and castes and it will not work well to continue bidders for sites in any locality to the men of only that community for whom the locality is assigned. I beg that all these points may be kindly considered before deciding the question of selling the sites by public auction.

Proceedings of the Government of Mysore, (General Plague), dated 18th December 1900.

READ

Letter No. 1846, dated the 30th October 1900, from the Plague Commissioner in Mysore, requesting orders to sell in future, by public auction, subject to the conditions laid down in Government Proceedings No. Pg. 1251-2, dated the 12th April 1900, except conditions 6 and 7 all the building sites in the Basavangudi and Malleswaram extensions in the Bangalore City, fixing the upset price as one rupee for every 100 square feet of cottage, villa and house sites and Rs. 1½ for every 100 square feet of bazaar sites; and stating that the provisions of the Land Revenue Code and the Rules issued thereunder may be made applicable to sales of sites in the said extensions and to the recovery of the sale proceeds.

(2) Letter No. 2157, dated the 18th November 1900, from the same officer, recommending, for reasons stated that instead of selling the sites by public auction as originally proposed, the limit of time as regards privileged rates prescribed in Government Proceedings No. Pg. 667-71, dated the 15th December 1899, may be extended up to the end of December 1900.

No. Pg. 755-8, DATED BANGALORE, 18TH DECEMBER 1900.

ORDER THEREON—In view of the fact that there is still a large number of sites available in the two extensions and of the repeated extensions of time already granted, Government consider it undesirable to extend the time any further as regards privileged rates. The Plague Commissioner is accordingly requested to instruct the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore district, to sell, by public auction in the first instance, a few selected sites in the two extensions in the manner proposed by him and communicate the result for the orders of Government; such sales being subject to the conditions laid down in Proceedings No. Pg. 1251-2, dated the 12th April 1900, except conditions 1, 6 and 7, which, especially condition 8, should be duly notified for the information of the bidders.

2. It is a matter for consideration whether in the case of applications made by poor people whose income is not more than Rs. 12 a month and who cannot take a site less than 30'×100', some concession may not be shown by reducing the sum to Rs. 20 per site. Proceedings of the Government of Mysore, (General Plague), dated 18th December 1900.

READ—

Letter No. 1846, dated the 30th October 1900, from the Plague Commissioner in Mysore, requesting orders to sell in future, by public auction, subject to the conditions laid down in Government Proceedings No. Pg. 1251-2, dated the 12th April 1900, except conditions 6 and 7, all the building sites in the Basavangudi and Malleswaram extensions in the Bangalore City, fixing the upset price as one rupee for every 100 square feet of cottage, villa and house sites and Rs. 1½ for every 100 square feet of bazaar sites; and stating that the provisions of the Land Revenue Code and the Rules issued thereunder may be made applicable to sales of sites in the said extensions and to the recovery of the sale proceeds.

(2) Letter No. 2157, dated the 18th November 1900, from the same officer, recommending, for reasons stated, that instead of selling the sites by public auction as originally proposed, the limit of time as regards privileged rates prescribed in Government Proceedings No. Pg. 667-71, dated the 15th December 1899, may be extended up to the end of December 1900.

No. PG. 755-8, DATED BANGALORE, 18TH DECEMBER 1900.

ORDER THEREON—In view of the fact that there is still a large number of sites available in the two extensions and of the repeated extensions of time already granted, Government consider it undesirable to extend the time any further as regards privileged rates. The Plague Commissioner is accordingly requested to instruct the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore district, to sell, by public auction in the first instance, a few selected sites in the two extensions in the manner proposed by him and communicate the result for the orders of Government; such sales being subject to the conditions laid down in Proceedings No. Pg. 1251-2, dated the 12th April 1900, except conditions 1, 6 and 7, which, especially condition 8, should be duly notified for the information of the bidders.

2. It is a matter for consideration whether in the case of applications made by poor people whose income is not more than Rs. 12 a month and who cannot take a site less than 30' × 100', some concession may not be shown by reducing the sum to Rs. 20 per site.
